Emmanuelle Wargon, Secretary of State to the Minister for Ecological and Inclusive Transition, went yesterday to Marseille (Bouches-du-Rhône) to sign a framework document which sets the foundation for the future Pact for ecological transition and industrial site, to support the shutdown of the coal section of the Gardanne-Meyreuil power plant planned by 2022.

Emmanuelle Wargon, Secretary of State to the Minister for Ecological and Inclusive Transition, went yesterday to Marseille (Bouches-du-Rhône) to sign a framework document which sets the foundation for the future Pact for ecological transition and industrial site, to support the shutdown of the coal section of the Gardanne-Meyreuil power plant.----- planned by 2022. The Government has brought together the Territorial Pact Steering Committee (State, local authorities, economic actors), in order to draw up a draft contract intended to ensure rapid revitalization of the territory. The project will be finalized by summer 2020.-----

"The State is fully mobilized to undertake, alongside all the stakeholders, an economic project in line with our environmental objectives in this former Gardanne mining basin. In addition, the Government's will is to enhance the attractiveness of the Grand Port by developing new economic projects to offset the impact of the shutdown of the coal section of the Gardanne-Meyreuil power station. "Said Emmanuelle Wargon yesterday during her trip. At the heart of the Aix-Marseille-Provence metropolis, this territory aims to become a positive energy territory. Projects are already being prepared in the low-carbon energy and mobility sectors, as well as in the wood sector and around the circular economy. Source French Ministry of Ecology and Transition
