Le Méridien is an Upscale, Design-Focused International Hotel Brand with a European Perspective. It was originally founded by Air France in 1972 and was later based in the United Kingdom. Marriott International now owns the Chain.

Air France established Meridien Hotels in 1972. The Chain's Hotels offered Accommodation for Air France Flight Crews in Major Hub Cities, and the Airline promoted the Chain and handled Reservations for it. The first Meridien Hotels Property was a 1,000-Room Hotel in the Heart of Paris, the Hotel Meridien Paris, today known as Le Méridien Etoile. The Chain grew to 10 Hotels in Europe and Africa within two years and had 21 Hotels spanning the Globe within Six Years.

In September 2016, Marriott gained the Le Méridien Brand as part of its Acquisition of Starwood. The Brand has since been positioned as a Premium Lifestyle Product distinguished by a Mid-Century Modern Design Aesthetic and Destination-Centric Events and Programming.

By 2015 there were over 100 Hotels in 35 different Countries throughout the World, each having something Completely Unique, and Le Meridien Etoile in Paris was completely renovated in 2016 by the UK Firm Michaelis Boyd to provide Additional Creature Comforts, Latest Technologies, the Unique Meridien Unlock Art Program and another Unique Concept of Le Meridien HUB.

Talking of the Jazz Club Etoile, as the Name suggests, this is a Jazz Club providing Concerts for Jazz, Soul, Blues, etc, plus they also have Several Different Dining Options for those that wish to enjoy a Lunch or Dinner within this Restaurant in Paris. There is also the Jazzy Brunch of a Gourmet Buffet accompanied by a Jazz Trio providing Live Music.
